Press Release

For Immediate Release

Timothy J. Berg, Fennemore Craig Managing Partner, Named To Head National Organization

Phoenix, Ariz., Aug. 8, 2007 — Timothy J. Berg, managing partner of Fennemore Craig, has been chosen president-elect of the American Academy of Appellate Lawyers.

Berg began his term as president-elect on August 1. The American Academy of Appellate Lawyers was formed “to advance the principles and tenets of appellate practice in state and federal courts by bringing together the leading attorneys in the nation who devote their practices to appellate representation,” according to the organization’s Web site.

Berg practices in the area of civil appeals and public utilities regulation. He has participated in the briefing or argument of over two hundred appeals before the United States Courts of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit, the Second Circuit, the Fourth Circuit, the Fifth Circuit, the Eleventh Circuit, the Federal Circuit, the Supreme Court of Arizona and both divisions of the Arizona Court of Appeals.

His appellate practice spans a broad field of substantive areas, including employment law, medical malpractice, product liability, environmental, state and local taxation, business torts, real property and mineral rights, bankruptcy and public utilities law.

Berg was listed in the 2007 Best Lawyers in America®, Business Litigation and Public Utility Law and Chambers USA Leading Lawyers for Business directories.

He holds a law degree from the University of Arizona and a bachelor’s degree from Arizona State University.

Fennemore Craig is a full service business law firm with more than 180 attorneys. Founded over a century ago, Fennemore Craig has five offices, which are located in Phoenix, Tucson, Nogales, Las Vegas, and Denver. For more information, visit www.fennemorecraig.com.
