Fennemore Craig deploys Clearwell to streamline electronic data management

Phoenix, Ariz., February 8, 2010 — Fennemore Craig, a full-service business law firm with nearly 200 attorneys, has deployed the Clearwell E-Discovery Platform® in house to maximize efficient electronic data management in litigation involving e-discovery. By bringing Clearwell in-house, Fennemore Craig is able to accelerate early case assessments, enhance e-discovery defensibility, and deliver significant cost savings for clients.

Amy Abdo, who chairs Fennemore Craig's E-Discovery and Data Management team said, "Clearwell offers an extremely cost-effective solution for managing and streamlining the e-discovery process, saving our clients both time and money. Our goal was to leverage technology that would allow us to proactively address the e-discovery challenges of our clients. With Clearwell, we are able to provide our clients with accurate estimates of e-discovery costs at the beginning of a case, deliver early insight into case facts, significantly reduce the cost and time of e-discovery, and ensure that all of this is done in a defensible manner."

With the guidance of its E-Discovery and Data Management team, the firm counsels clients in the areas of preservation, collection and analysis of electronic data. The E-Discovery and Data Management team is part of Fennemore Craig's substantial litigation section, which totals nearly 100 lawyers across Fennemore Craig's five offices in Arizona, Colorado and Nevada. Attorneys use the Clearwell E-Discovery Platform to manage electronic data, and provide early case
