Eight Attorneys Join Fennemore Craig in Phoenix Brings Total Attorneys in Firm to Nearly 200

PHOENIX, Oct. 16, 2007 — Eight attorneys have recently joined Fennemore Craig in Phoenix, expanding the firm's capabilities in the areas of litigation, real estate, environmental and utilities law, and estate planning. With the addition of these attorneys, the total number of Fennemore Craig lawyers increases to more than 190 firm-wide.

James Lee has come to Fennemore Craig as an of-counsel attorney in the estate planning area. He earned his juris doctorate from Brigham Young University in 1996. Lee holds the distinction of certified specialist in estate and trust law from the Arizona Board of Legal Specialization. He previously was a partner at Heywood and Lee in Mesa.

In addition, Karen Curosh has joined the firm as a part-time of-counsel attorney, working in the area of estate planning. She received a juris doctorate from Stanford University in 1985 and is a Certified Tax Specialist.

Bradley Shwer, Kevin Green, and Joshua Greer have all joined the firm's commercial litigation practice group as associates.

Shwer is a 2003 graduate of the Arizona State University College of Law. Prior to his arrival at Fennemore Craig, Shwer worked in the areas of litigation and insurance defense.

Green received his law degree in 2007 from the University of California Los Angeles School of Law.

Greer is a 2007 graduate of the William & Mary School of Law. Prior to joining Fennemore Craig, Greer worked as a legal extern for the Arizona Court of Appeals, and as a law clerk in the juvenile division of the Maricopa County Attorney's Office.

Suzanne Diaz will work as an associate attorney in the area of business tort litigation. Diaz is a 2007 graduate of the University of Arizona James E. Rogers College of Law.
