

Contact:

Nicole Greason
Fennemore Craig
(602) 916-5290
ngreason@fclaw.com

Press Release

---

For Immediate Release

Five elected new shareholders at Fennemore Craig

Phoenix, AZ, Dec. 14, 2007 — Five attorneys at Fennemore Craig in Phoenix have been elected shareholders in the firm. They are Patrick Black, Joe Chandler, Rod Fuller, Christa Torralba and Elizabeth Whitton.

Black practices utilities law and government relations with a focus on energy, water, wastewater and telecommunications regulation. Black received his juris doctorate from Santa Clara University Law School in 1994.

Chandler practices in the area of real estate transactions and also assists clients with real property management issues and matters regarding residential apartment or office building condominium conversions. Chandler is a 1999 graduate of University of San Diego School of Law.

Fuller is a member of the firm's intellectual property and life sciences practice, which includes biotechnology, pharmaceuticals, medical devices, and diagnostics. His practice involves biotechnology, including genetic engineering, molecular biology, genomics, immunology, and drug delivery systems. He earned his law degree from the J. Reuben Clark Law School at Brigham Young University in 2000.

Torralba practices primarily in the areas of health care law and professional liability litigation, as well as employment litigation. Torralba received her law degree from Tulane University Law School in 1999.

Whitton practices in the areas of health care law, medical negligence and professional liability. She is a 1998 graduate of Arizona State University College of Law.

Fennemore Craig is a full service business law firm with more than 190 attorneys and offices in Phoenix, Tucson and Nogales, Ariz., Las Vegas, Nev. and Denver, Colo. For more information, visit www.fennemorecraig.com.

###