Fennemore Craig Elects Three New Directors in Reno

RENO, NV – Fennemore Craig, a leading Mountain West law firm, announced the promotion of Courtney Miller O’Mara, Shannon Pierce and John Tennert to Director in Reno.

“It is an honor to welcome Courtney, Shannon and John as directors,” said Craig Etem, office managing partner of Fennemore Craig’s Reno office. “Their promotion is a result of their dedication to our clients and the legal profession. We look forward to continuing to help Courtney, Shannon and John exceed our clients’ expectations.”

O’Mara’s practice focuses on business litigation, creditors’ rights litigation, and probate and trust matters. In 2016 she was highlighted among the “Legal Elite” by Nevada Business Magazine and recognized by Mountain States Super Lawyers as a “Rising Star”. O’Mara was named to the Reno Gazette Journal’s 20 Under 40 in 2015. She earned her J.D. from the University of Southern California and her B.A. from the University of Notre Dame.

Pierce practices in the areas of employment defense and commercial litigation. Her experience includes litigating on behalf of management concerning claims of employment discrimination, wrongful termination, leaves of absence, and other traditional employment and commercial litigation. Pierce earned her J.D. from Santa Clara University School of Law and her B.S. from California Polytechnic State University and has been named “Legal Elite” by Nevada Business Magazine.

Tennert represents businesses and individuals in a variety of complex civil litigation, financial service and natural resource matters, and has handled matters involving contract disputes, business torts, fraud, environmental issues and creditors’ rights litigation. He was named to Nevada Business Magazine’s “Best Up and Coming Attorneys,” and “Legal Elite. Tennert earned his J.D. from Gonzaga University School of Law and his B.S. from the University of Nevada, Reno.
